Sweet Tarragon is what happens when a chef and an experimental musician decide to make jewelry together.

The Chef: Danielle A. Nelson

Dani closed the doors to her catering company in 2007, but her entrepreneurial spirit didn't end there (neither did her love for the culinary arts; hence the name "Sweet Tarragon"). A seasoned crafter and creative, and a graphic and web designer by trade, she has worked with a little bit of everything from textiles to photography to interior design. The unique experience of color-matching and mixing paint by eye in a home center as a young adult left her with a nuanced eye for color.

The Musician: Meredith Lynn Matthews

Mer produces under the improbable name "Braindouche!", available online at braindouche.net. This is her first foray into a physical medium. A published poet and former professional writer and radio producer, she uses her remarkably broad artistic experience to keep her designs from being too grounded in reality.

Sweet Tarragon

Our hand-crafted jewelry and accessories incorporate a wide variety of media, including sterling silver, gemstones, leather, copper, Swarovski Crystal, glass, plated silver and gold, pewter and hemp. Custom order, wholesale, and consignment inquiries are always welcome. Sweet Tarragon products are available online and at craft shows and festivals throughout eastern Pennsylvania and beyond.
